REPORT OF SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

FELLOW CITIZENS:—

In making my second annual report, I will endeavor to give the tax payers an exact account of the condition of your schools during the past year. I find the schools generally in a prosperous condition. Most of the districts have selected efficient teachers, to instruct their children, and the instructors have met with good success. In the exceptional cases, more blame is due to the parents, than to the teachers. If you desire a useful school, do not speak disparagingly of your teacher to your neighbors, or in presence of your children; but sustain your teacher's influence in the school room, or you will soon have a disorderly state of things in your district, and your funds as good as thrown to the winds.

The summer and fall terms of district No. 1, were taught by Miss Achsah O. Smart, of Rumney. This was Miss Smart's first attempt at school teaching. She succeeded finely. I would say that Miss S., though young, has a good faculty to instruct and to govern a primary school.

Miss Fannie M. Webster, of Derry taught the summer school in district No. 2. She is an experienced teacher. Her discipline was excellent, and her instruction was thorough. Mrs. L. B. Spaulding taught the winter term very successfully. She is among our best teachers.

The summer term in district No. 3, was taught by Miss S. E. Green; the winter school by Mr. C. S. Coffin, of Campton. Mr. C. is one of our most efficient teachers. He has had experience, and has a natural talent for instructing the young.

Miss Susie Simpson taught the Summer, and Mrs. Hattie Smalley the Fall term in District No. 4. Both ladies, have taught sometime in Rumney. They are well known in this community as thorough and efficient teachers.

District No. 5. Employed Miss Carrie R. Boyd for the Summer, and she continued in the school until the close of the fall term. Miss Emma F. Stevens succeeded Miss Boyd, in the winter. Under her charge, the school made good progress through the term.

District No. 6. Grammar school had three teachers during the year. Lizzie B. Spaulding, J. W. Heath and Hattie F. Smalley. All good and experienced teachers; Miss Climena Elliott taught, for the tenth year, the primary department in district No. 6, with her accustomed success.

Miss Effie Spaulding taught the summer school in district No. 7, with her usual good management. Miss Fannie M. Webster was employed during the winter. Her discipline and instruction were highly satisfactory.

Miss Ella French taught both terms of school, in district No. 8. She is an excellent teacher, and the scholars made good progress under her management.

Miss Lottie Milligan taught again the past year, in district No. 9. The school seemed to be well managed, and the scholars to make good progress.

District No. 11, employed Miss Sarah A. Whitney both terms. Miss Whitney is young and the school was small, but she showed a tact for a good teacher.

RESPECTFULLY SUBMITTED,

O. S. HALL, School Committee.
